

Joshua Tamayo

Joshua Tamayo is a pianist, conductor, composer, and arranger. His passion for music came from many years of piano lessons with his long time mentor and teacher, Peter Lam. He also draws inspiration from the 10 years spent with St. Michael's Choir School, where he specialized in organ and sacred choral music. Under the guidance of Miss Kathleen Mann and Monsignor Thomas Barrett Armstrong, he quickly blossomed into a fine and well-rounded musician.

His love for conducting blossomed when he was 12 years of age when he had the honor to be the guest conductor of the Sudbury Symphony Orchestra. Joshua continued to polish his craft at the piano by competing in various competitions at the national level. He later pursued music at the University of Toronto majoring in piano performance.

Joshua continues to share his passion for music full-time. He can be reached at joshitamayo.com.
